

June 5, 2008

Dear Customer;

As you are aware, our industry has experienced a dramatic increase in the overall cost of doing business over recent months. Due to escalating raw material, transportation, packaging and energy costs, we are now required to pass on some of those increases.

Therefore, effective June 16, 2008, we will increase our concentrates sale prices with USD/LBS 0.06 pro-rated for resin content and USD/LBS 0.03 pro-rated for TiO₂ content.

Your Regional Sales Manager will contact you shortly to discuss any questions you may have.

At Ingenia, we pride ourselves on our strength in innovation. It is this spirit that allows us to deliver the quality services and products you have come to expect from Ingenia. We look forward to working with you to creatively manage this cost pressure.

We truly appreciate your trust in Ingenia and look forward to your continued business.

Kind Regards,

Marc Potemans
